

Western Colorado “Spirits” Tour

Monday night early arrival and Tuesday morning check in are the times to sign up for the Western Colorado Spirits Tour. We’ll visit a Western Colorado winery, a new distillery and a quirky brewery. All work with the local agriculture community to produce award winning products. Behind the scene tours and talking directly with the winemaker/brew master/chief distiller, you’ll learn how these independent businessmen and women are living their dreams.

The Wineries of the Grand Valley. The Valley has 18 winery tasting rooms – so many wineries, so little time. As the wineries prefer to do tastings and tours with smaller groups, each vehicle will go to a different winery. You can compare notes later. We know it will just pique your appetite to visit more later.

We’re what you’d call an artisanal distillery, which of course makes us artists, serious craftsmen, if you will. Manufacturing tasteless, odorless vodka from potatoes doesn’t interest us, it’s just not fun. Vodka, brandies, and bourbon now bear our labels – we invite you to visit to see the distilling processes and taste the results.
